The great celebrity and increasing demand for this onequaled preparation, convinces the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning sublic of its superior qualities over any other preparation in use. It cleanies the head and scalp from dandruff and other entaneous diseases, causing the hair to grow luxuriantly giving it a rich, soft, glossy and flexible appearance, and also, where the hair is loosening and thinning, it will give attempth and vigor to the roots and restore the growth to hose parts which have become baid, causing it to yield a resh dovering of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this invigorator, when all other preparations have falled. L. M. mas in his possession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest redsectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning until the latest period of life; and in cause where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore if to it to its original hue, giving it a dark glossy appearance. As a perfume for the toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator, on he dressed in any required form so as to preserve its piace, whether plainjor in curia; hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being per bottle, to be had at all respectable Druggists an Perfamers. L. MILLER would call the attention of Parents and Guardians to the use of his invigorator, in cases where the children's hair inclines to be weak. The use of it lays the foundation for a good head of hair, as it removes any imparities that may have become connected with the scalp, the removal of which is necessary both for the health of the child, and the future [appearance of its Hair.
